The New York Times Index

This is more than an index to the news in The New York Times... it's your guide to the news facts buried in any newspaper that you file. Published twice monthly, and in an annual cumulative volume, it gives you over 500,000 news facts every year arranged alphabetically under thousands of different headings. 24 semi-monthly issues, $35; annual volume, $35 ($36 foreign). Combined semi-monthly and annual volume, $50 ($51 foreign). Out of print volumes of the Index may now be had in Microfilm or Microcard editions.

2

The New York Times On Microfilm

Here's the complete final edition of The New York Times on durable, space-saving 35 mm. microfilm. Three small reels give you a full month's file of the weekday and Sunday editions. Mailed to subscribers every ten days. Files from 1851 are available on microfilm. Subscription for current year, $140 ($144 foreign). Back years 1939-1949, $175 each. Prices quoted on request for years 1851-1938.

3

The New York Times Rag-Paper Edition

When you want full size copies of The New York Times that will take a lot of punishment, the daily rag-paper edition is the answer. Copies may be purchased singly (75¢ weekday, $1.25 Sunday) or by yearly subscription. A year's file on rag paper: unbound, $225; bound, $300. (Transportation extra on foreign subscriptions.)

4

The New York Times Bound Newsprint Edition

You can get the weekday and Sunday issues of The New York Times (including the Book Review and The New York Times Magazine) in handy bound volumes ready for delivery on the 15th and 30th of each month. Annual subscription, $150. (Transportation extra on foreign subscriptions.)
